

PARKER BOOMERS APPEAR IN FIELD

Belmont Reported to Have Taken a Hand.

MOVEMENT UNDER COVER

Hearst's Followers Protest Against Ruling of the Election Commission.

Several new snarls and tangles appeared in the local Democratic situation this morning. The most important development was the announcement that Henry E. Davis and a number of prominent associates had decided to put another ticket in the local field, the delegates to St. Louis being instructed for Parker.

It is said that August Belmont and several other wealthy New Yorkers have become interested in the movement. A number of meetings have been held at various hotels, but so quiet were these proceedings that no news concerning them leaked out.

Hearst Men Object.

The Hearst party prepared more trouble for the election commission this afternoon. Vice Chairman F. J. Ryan filed protests against the rules of the commission. The gist of the protest given exclusively in The Times Saturday afternoon. Since then Mr. Ryan and his associates added to the protest a hot attack upon Chairman Edw. J. Sefton, of the election commission, who is accused by the Hearstites of playing politics, using his position to make himself national committeeman and doing other things.

Polling Places Named.

The protest was filed with Chairman Sefton at 2 o'clock. Arrangements were made for the filing at a special meeting of the commission, which was held in Chairman Sefton's office this morning. The protest was discussed and the polling places selected. The list of booths is as follows:

First, Anacostia, 7 Harrison Street; Second, 303 Seventh Street northwest; Third, 301 M Street northwest; Fourth, 1212 Thirty-first Street northwest; Fifth, 1007 Pennsylvania Avenue northwest; Sixth, 514 Nineteenth Street northwest; Seventh, 1212 12th Street northwest; Eighth, 408 Eleventh Street northwest; Ninth, 512 E Street northwest; Tenth, 1212 12th Street northwest; Eleventh, 408 N Street northwest; Twelfth, 408 N Street northwest; Thirteenth, 408 N Street northwest; Fourteenth, 408 N Street northwest; Fifteenth, 408 N Street northwest; Sixteenth, 408 N Street northwest; Seventeenth, 408 N Street northwest; Eighteenth, 408 N Street northwest; Nineteenth, 408 N Street northwest; Twentieth, 408 N Street northwest; Twenty-first, 408 N Street northwest; Twenty-second, 717 I Street southeast.

The meeting was not long. At its conclusion it was announced that another one would be held at 8 o'clock tonight, when Captain Collins, P. J. Ryan, and several of the other Hearst leaders are expected to appear and make arguments on the protest.

J. Fred Kelley and the others of the anti-Hearst party have been notified of the meeting, and it is probable that they will be present also, as they have a protest against the rules to be heard. The anti-Hearst central committee is to meet tonight at the Raleigh Hotel to complete the lists of delegates. The Hearst committee is to do the same. All of the lists of candidates are expected to be in the hands of the commission Wednesday.

Chances for a Break.

It was announced this morning on official authority that the Schulteis-O'Meara ticket, which was allowed three judges and four clerks of the primaries, would not be allowed to have its names printed on the official ballots. It was said that there are to be only the Hearst and anti-Hearst tickets, provided that Davis does not enter the field.

Charles W. Slater issued a signed statement this morning, in which he announced that he does not represent William Randolph Hearst in the District, that he is not a candidate for national committeeman, and that he would not accept an office.

Favors Mr. Hearst.

He says there is only one Hearst committee in the city, and that is the one at the head of which is Capt. James J. Collins. He also expresses the belief that Mr. Hearst is going to win in the District. He asks that the delegation be instructed to vote only for the Hearst and anti-Hearst tickets in the District, that he is not a candidate for national committeeman, and that he would not accept an office.

Richard W. Warren, 22, and Selma M. Williams, 22, Westmoreland county, Va., and Sarah Chapman, 21, District of Columbia.

Harry Jones, 22, and Eliza Matthews, 21, Courtenay I. Poole, 21, and Florence A. Viers, 19, Joseph Perry, 23, and Elnora Cockley, 22, John L. Thompson, 23, and Florence E. Dyer, 22, Lark Brown, 34, and Rebecca Simmons, 34, Robert M. Blanchard, 29, U. S. A., and Mary W. De Witt, 23, District of Columbia.

Charles H. Brown, 41, and Annie Wood, 28, Jeremiah Makel, 23, and Emma I. Rosier, 22, Everett P. Wheeler, 64, New City, and Alice Gillman, 42, District of Columbia.

Sydney B. Booth, 30, Boston, Mass., and M. Elizabeth Sugden, 26, District of Columbia.

W. L. Gary, 23, and Virgie Richardson, 19, William Ingalls, 37, Detroit, Mich., and Carolyn C. Rittenhouse, 27, District of Columbia.

Richard W. Warren, 22, and Selma M. Williams, 22, Westmoreland county, Va., and Sarah Chapman, 21, District of Columbia.

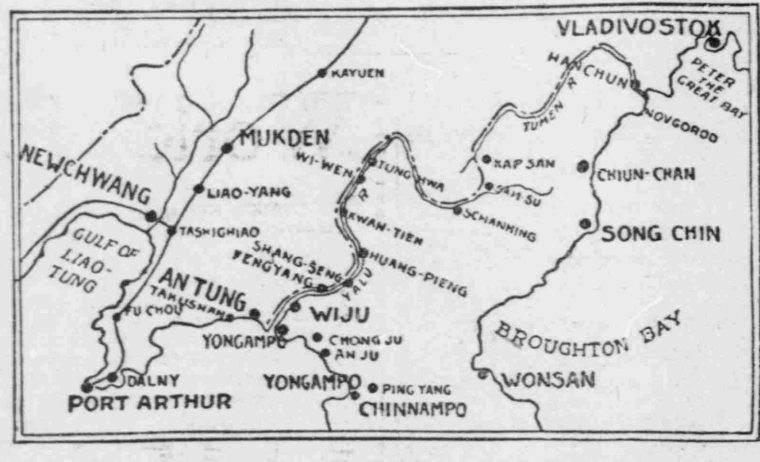

Harry Jones, 22, and Eliza Matthews, 21, Courtenay I. Poole, 21, and Florence A. Viers, 19, Joseph Perry, 23, and Elnora Cockley, 22, John L. Thompson, 23, and Florence E. Dyer, 22, Lark Brown, 34, and Rebecca Simmons, 34, Robert M. Blanchard, 29, U. S. A., and Mary W. De Witt, 23, District of Columbia.

Charles H. Brown, 41, and Annie Wood, 28, Jeremiah Makel, 23, and Emma I. Rosier, 22, Everett P. Wheeler, 64, New City, and Alice Gillman, 42, District of Columbia.

Sydney B. Booth, 30, Boston, Mass., and M. Elizabeth Sugden, 26, District of Columbia.

W. L. Gary, 23, and Virgie Richardson, 19, William Ingalls, 37, Detroit, Mich., and Carolyn C. Rittenhouse, 27, District of Columbia.

SEAT OF FAR EASTERN WAR

Showing stretch of Yalu River on the borders of which the big land battles between Russia and Japan are to be waged.

JAPS GUARD YALU FOR THIRTY MILES

Military Lines Extend From Yongampo to Ten Miles Above Wi-ju—Tiger Hill Key to Situation.

SEOUL, April 25.—Advice received here state that the Japanese lines now extend thirty miles along the Yalu River, reaching from Yongampo to ten miles above Wi-ju. The Russians are strongest at Antung.

Three islands, one above and two below Wi-ju, will facilitate an attack, as they offer a base for artillery to cover the crossing of the Yalu.

It is reported that the Japanese are landing troops and constructing buildings at Hung-chuan, below Yongampo. Advice from the province of Hamgyung, in Northeastern Korea, indicate that the country folk along the northern border of the province are selling cattle and supplies to the Russians. The province of Hamgyung is the former home of Yi Yong Ik, former Korean minister of finance, who, on account of his pro-Russian sympathies, was transported to Japan last February by the Japanese authorities.

Several Korean officers suspected of being Russian spies have been arrested. NTUCHWANG, April 25.—The Russians are preparing to resist a Japanese advance by the further construction of intrenchments and other fortifications on the Manchurian side of the river.

All reports of a decisive engagement on the Yalu are premature. There is no official information that any decisive fighting has taken place on the Yalu River, neither have any reliable reports received here that the Japanese have yet attempted to cross, although the opposing lines, it is understood, now skirt the two banks of the river.

Among those who spoke were Mr. Johnson, for the exposition committee, and Newport Potts, of Baltimore, a descendant of Sir Christopher Potts, who brought John Smith to Virginia in 1607.

Return to Washington. The party returned to Norfolk and Port Monroe on the chartered steamer and landed at Old Point Comfort, returning to Washington this afternoon.

Among the delegation were a dozen State regents, Mrs. Walter H. Reed, vice president of Montana; Mrs. John G. Good, of Buffalo; Mrs. S. Little, New York; Mrs. W. H. Coleman, Indianapolis, Ind., and Mrs. H. Horton, of Butte.

The latter are members of the board of lady managers St. Louis Exposition. They expressed admiration of Jamestown Exposition in 1907.

Contracts Lunacy From Insane Wife. Husband Gave Up His Business to Spend Time in Caring for Woman.

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 25.—Mr. and Mrs. Owington Shock have been brought to the Eastern Kentucky Lunatic Asylum, in this city, from Woodford county, declared insane by a jury in the circuit court of Versailles, on Saturday.

Twenty-five years ago Shock was a traveling salesman for a Philadelphia house, and during one of his visits to Versailles he met Miss Mary Ellen Johnson, a young girl who was married to the young wife's mind began to give way. Then Shock was compelled to give up his position and spend all of his time caring for her.

For twenty years the husband had been faithful to his wife, and during all that time the fortune of his wife was being dissipated in efforts to restore her reason.

There was no hope for her, however, and after all these years of devotion the wife of the husband became unbalanced. They both appeared before a jury on Saturday and were adjudged insane and ordered to the local asylum.

VIENNA, April 25.—Prince Louis of Orleans and Lieutenant von Korovits who yesterday made a seven hours' balloon trip from Vienna to Boshnig-Gradiska, in Hungary, had an amusing experience on coming down.

The Bosnian Mahometan peasants were much alarmed at the appearance of the balloon, which they seem to have regarded as a portent from heaven. They ran away at its approach, and would not assist at the landing. It was only with great difficulty that help in packing it up and transporting it to the nearest town could be obtained.

They went to the Trinity Episcopal Church parsonage, and confided their desires to the Rev. Edmund P. Williams, rector of that church. Mr. Williams procured the license for them and performed the ceremony.

The bridegroom then wrote letters to the Baltimore newspapers and to John Heaver, the father of the bride. There was parental surprise but no parental anger, save that Mrs. Heaver is looking sadly at the half-finished garments upon which she has been working so hard.

Mr. and Mrs. Horsey returned to Baltimore this morning, and will for the present reside with the bride's family.

They went to the Trinity Episcopal Church parsonage, and confided their desires to the Rev. Edmund P. Williams, rector of that church. Mr. Williams procured the license for them and performed the ceremony.

The bridegroom then wrote letters to the Baltimore newspapers and to John Heaver, the father of the bride. There was parental surprise but no parental anger, save that Mrs. Heaver is looking sadly at the half-finished garments upon which she has been working so hard.

Mr. and Mrs. Horsey returned to Baltimore this morning, and will for the present reside with the bride's family.

They went to the Trinity Episcopal Church parsonage, and confided their desires to the Rev. Edmund P. Williams, rector of that church. Mr. Williams procured the license for them and performed the ceremony.

The bridegroom then wrote letters to the Baltimore newspapers and to John Heaver, the father of the bride. There was parental surprise but no parental anger, save that Mrs. Heaver is looking sadly at the half-finished garments upon which she has been working so hard.

Mr. and Mrs. Horsey returned to Baltimore this morning, and will for the present reside with the bride's family.

They went to the Trinity Episcopal Church parsonage, and confided their desires to the Rev. Edmund P. Williams, rector of that church. Mr. Williams procured the license for them and performed the ceremony.

The bridegroom then wrote letters to the Baltimore newspapers and to John Heaver, the father of the bride. There was parental surprise but no parental anger, save that Mrs. Heaver is looking sadly at the half-finished garments upon which she has been working so hard.

Mr. and Mrs. Horsey returned to Baltimore this morning, and will for the present reside with the bride's family.

"DAUGHTERS" VISIT JAMESTOWN ISLAND

Plant Tree on Site of Historic Ruins.

SEEDLING FROM WASHINGTON

Mrs. Fairbanks Gives Assurance of the Organization's Support for the Proposed Exhibition.

NORFOLK, Va., April 25.—Headed by Mrs. Charles A. Fairbanks, 200 Daughters of the American Revolution delegates to the recent national congress, visited historic Jamestown Island today. They were under guidance of Mrs. Hugh Nelson Potts.

Representatives of the local Daughters of the American Revolution Chapter and a committee of the Jamestown Exposition directors, including ex-Mayor Brooks Johnson, and Walter Taylor, of Norfolk, accompanied the party.

At the war site ruins of the first church in America the Daughters planted an osage orange tree, which they presented to Virginia as one of thirteen original colonies. The seedling had been nurtured in earth taken from first Continental Memorial Hall excavations in Washington.

Mrs. Fairbanks' Speech. Fitting exercises attended the unique ceremonies, including patriotic songs and prayer. Mrs. Fairbanks said: "It is appropriate this ceremony should take place here where white men first planted a settlement in our country. It is appropriate we Daughters should be here where seeds of liberty were first planted, as we are planting this little tree today."

"I can assure our hosts our organization will lend its heartiest support to Jamestown Exposition in 1907 in commemoration of the third centennial of the colonists' first coming. It will be our happy duty to lend our aid."

Among those who spoke were Mr. Johnson, for the exposition committee, and Newport Potts, of Baltimore, a descendant of Sir Christopher Potts, who brought John Smith to Virginia in 1607.

Return to Washington. The party returned to Norfolk and Port Monroe on the chartered steamer and landed at Old Point Comfort, returning to Washington this afternoon.

Among the delegation were a dozen State regents, Mrs. Walter H. Reed, vice president of Montana; Mrs. John G. Good, of Buffalo; Mrs. S. Little, New York; Mrs. W. H. Coleman, Indianapolis, Ind., and Mrs. H. Horton, of Butte.

The latter are members of the board of lady managers St. Louis Exposition. They expressed admiration of Jamestown Exposition in 1907.

Contracts Lunacy From Insane Wife. Husband Gave Up His Business to Spend Time in Caring for Woman.

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 25.—Mr. and Mrs. Owington Shock have been brought to the Eastern Kentucky Lunatic Asylum, in this city, from Woodford county, declared insane by a jury in the circuit court of Versailles, on Saturday.

Twenty-five years ago Shock was a traveling salesman for a Philadelphia house, and during one of his visits to Versailles he met Miss Mary Ellen Johnson, a young girl who was married to the young wife's mind began to give way. Then Shock was compelled to give up his position and spend all of his time caring for her.

For twenty years the husband had been faithful to his wife, and during all that time the fortune of his wife was being dissipated in efforts to restore her reason.

There was no hope for her, however, and after all these years of devotion the wife of the husband became unbalanced. They both appeared before a jury on Saturday and were adjudged insane and ordered to the local asylum.

VIENNA, April 25.—Prince Louis of Orleans and Lieutenant von Korovits who yesterday made a seven hours' balloon trip from Vienna to Boshnig-Gradiska, in Hungary, had an amusing experience on coming down.

The Bosnian Mahometan peasants were much alarmed at the appearance of the balloon, which they seem to have regarded as a portent from heaven. They ran away at its approach, and would not assist at the landing. It was only with great difficulty that help in packing it up and transporting it to the nearest town could be obtained.

They went to the Trinity Episcopal Church parsonage, and confided their desires to the Rev. Edmund P. Williams, rector of that church. Mr. Williams procured the license for them and performed the ceremony.

The bridegroom then wrote letters to the Baltimore newspapers and to John Heaver, the father of the bride. There was parental surprise but no parental anger, save that Mrs. Heaver is looking sadly at the half-finished garments upon which she has been working so hard.

Mr. and Mrs. Horsey returned to Baltimore this morning, and will for the present reside with the bride's family.

They went to the Trinity Episcopal Church parsonage, and confided their desires to the Rev. Edmund P. Williams, rector of that church. Mr. Williams procured the license for them and performed the ceremony.

The bridegroom then wrote letters to the Baltimore newspapers and to John Heaver, the father of the bride. There was parental surprise but no parental anger, save that Mrs. Heaver is looking sadly at the half-finished garments upon which she has been working so hard.

Mr. and Mrs. Horsey returned to Baltimore this morning, and will for the present reside with the bride's family.

They went to the Trinity Episcopal Church parsonage, and confided their desires to the Rev. Edmund P. Williams, rector of that church. Mr. Williams procured the license for them and performed the ceremony.

The bridegroom then wrote letters to the Baltimore newspapers and to John Heaver, the father of the bride. There was parental surprise but no parental anger, save that Mrs. Heaver is looking sadly at the half-finished garments upon which she has been working so hard.

Mr. and Mrs. Horsey returned to Baltimore this morning, and will for the present reside with the bride's family.

They went to the Trinity Episcopal Church parsonage, and confided their desires to the Rev. Edmund P. Williams, rector of that church. Mr. Williams procured the license for them and performed the ceremony.

The bridegroom then wrote letters to the Baltimore newspapers and to John Heaver, the father of the bride. There was parental surprise but no parental anger, save that Mrs. Heaver is looking sadly at the half-finished garments upon which she has been working so hard.

Mr. and Mrs. Horsey returned to Baltimore this morning, and will for the present reside with the bride's family.

They went to the Trinity Episcopal Church parsonage, and confided their desires to the Rev. Edmund P. Williams, rector of that church. Mr. Williams procured the license for them and performed the ceremony.

The bridegroom then wrote letters to the Baltimore newspapers and to John Heaver, the father of the bride. There was parental surprise but no parental anger, save that Mrs. Heaver is looking sadly at the half-finished garments upon which she has been working so hard.

Mr. and Mrs. Horsey returned to Baltimore this morning, and will for the present reside with the bride's family.

They went to the Trinity Episcopal Church parsonage, and confided their desires to the Rev. Edmund P. Williams, rector of that church. Mr. Williams procured the license for them and performed the ceremony.

The bridegroom then wrote letters to the Baltimore newspapers and to John Heaver, the father of the bride. There was parental surprise but no parental anger, save that Mrs. Heaver is looking sadly at the half-finished garments upon which she has been working so hard.

Destruction in Wake Of Southwest Tornado

Texas and Kansas Visited by Storm Which Blows Down Houses and Injures Many People.

MOUNT VERNON, Texas, April 25.—The worst tornado ever known in this section struck Mount Vernon from the Southwest about 3:30 yesterday afternoon. Eleven houses were blown down.

The residence of J. H. Majors, vice president of the First National Bank, was demolished. Mrs. Majors was seriously hurt. Mr. Majors and Mrs. C. P. Harp and her son and daughter were injured.

The home of W. W. Arnold was shattered and strewn for hundreds of yards. Mrs. Arnold, his wife, and a young woman visiting them, were blown in a heap in the yard. All were injured. H. A. Smith had two houses wrecked.

his residence in town and dwelling at his farm, a mile southwest. The latter was occupied by J. P. Castleberry, who was seriously injured.

McPHERSON, Kans., April 25.—A tornado Sunday swept through McPherson, demolishing six residences and injuring three persons, one of them seriously. H. W. Reiff's house, barn, windmill, and outbuildings were destroyed. A young man was badly bruised. A daughter was hurt.

The wind demolished the residences of Mrs. E. R. Fisher, Archie Brown, and Peter Seiberg. Two of Mr. Brown's daughters were hurt.

A storm passed four miles east of St. Louis, wrecking telephone and telegraph poles and farm property. It is believed that serious damage was done in the country north of here.

LEPROSY CURABLE, SAYS DR. DYER

Louisiana Physician Saves Ten Patients.

TRACE OF DISEASE REMOVED

Declared That This Malady Yields to Treatment as Certainly as Fever and Consumption.

NEW ORLEANS, April 25.—Dr. Isadore Dyer, professor of skin diseases in the New Orleans Polyclinic, is the first and only physician in this State and one of the few in the world who have cured leprosy. He said in a lecture today that he and his two assistants had cured ten cases of leprosy and that several cases now under treatment were on the road to recovery.

Dr. Dyer went on to say: "The time must come when the Leper Home will be sought by the victim of the disease; when the law will be forgotten, or not needed; when the poor will knock at the door and beg for admission to be relieved of the double burden of body and soul distress."

Hope for the Leper. "Is there any hope for the leper? Can I tell you here that in Louisiana my assistants and I in ten years have removed all evidence of the disease in nearly a dozen cases? Will you be impressed with the statement that in two years, since the last part of 1902, every case at the Leper Home not too far gone has been improved by treatment, and that even now those of typhoid, typhoid, yellow fever, cancer and tuberculosis."

"Treatment means perseverance. In another decade the catalogue of remediable ills burdened upon the frail body of human kind will bear the name of leprosy, as it does now those of typhoid, typhoid, yellow fever, cancer and tuberculosis."

BOSNIAN PEASANTS SCARED BY BALLOON

Thought It a Portent From Heaven and Made Off at Its Descent—Refused to Aid at Landing.

VIENNA, April 25.—Prince Louis of Orleans and Lieutenant von Korovits who yesterday made a seven hours' balloon trip from Vienna to Boshnig-Gradiska, in Hungary, had an amusing experience on coming down.

The Bosnian Mahometan peasants were much alarmed at the appearance of the balloon, which they seem to have regarded as a portent from heaven. They ran away at its approach, and would not assist at the landing. It was only with great difficulty that help in packing it up and transporting it to the nearest town could be obtained.

They went to the Trinity Episcopal Church parsonage, and confided their desires to the Rev. Edmund P. Williams, rector of that church. Mr. Williams procured the license for them and performed the ceremony.

The bridegroom then wrote letters to the Baltimore newspapers and to John Heaver, the father of the bride. There was parental surprise but no parental anger, save that Mrs. Heaver is looking sadly at the half-finished garments upon which she has been working so hard.

Mr. and Mrs. Horsey returned to Baltimore this morning, and will for the present reside with the bride's family.

They went to the Trinity Episcopal Church parsonage, and confided their desires to the Rev. Edmund P. Williams, rector of that church. Mr. Williams procured the license for them and performed the ceremony.

The bridegroom then wrote letters to the Baltimore newspapers and to John Heaver, the father of the bride. There was parental surprise but no parental anger, save that Mrs. Heaver is looking sadly at the half-finished garments upon which she has been working so hard.

Mr. and Mrs. Horsey returned to Baltimore this morning, and will for the present reside with the bride's family.

They went to the Trinity Episcopal Church parsonage, and confided their desires to the Rev. Edmund P. Williams, rector of that church. Mr. Williams procured the license for them and performed the ceremony.

The bridegroom then wrote letters to the Baltimore newspapers and to John Heaver, the father of the bride. There was parental surprise but no parental anger, save that Mrs. Heaver is looking sadly at the half-finished garments upon which she has been working so hard.

Mr. and Mrs. Horsey returned to Baltimore this morning, and will for the present reside with the bride's family.

They went to the Trinity Episcopal Church parsonage, and confided their desires to the Rev. Edmund P. Williams, rector of that church. Mr. Williams procured the license for them and performed the ceremony.

The bridegroom then wrote letters to the Baltimore newspapers and to John Heaver, the father of the bride. There was parental surprise but no parental anger, save that Mrs. Heaver is looking sadly at the half-finished garments upon which she has been working so hard.

Mr. and Mrs. Horsey returned to Baltimore this morning, and will for the present reside with the bride's family.

They went to the Trinity Episcopal Church parsonage, and confided their desires to the Rev. Edmund P. Williams, rector of that church. Mr. Williams procured the license for them and performed the ceremony.

The bridegroom then wrote letters to the Baltimore newspapers and to John Heaver, the father of the bride. There was parental surprise but no parental anger, save that Mrs. Heaver is looking sadly at the half-finished garments upon which she has been working so hard.

Mr. and Mrs. Horsey returned to Baltimore this morning, and will for the present reside with the bride's family.

BEDOUINS MASSACRE EGYPTIAN PILGRIMS

Attacked by Tribesmen on Their Return From Annual Journey to Mecca.

CAIRO, April 25.—Pilgrims returning from Mecca state that the Bedouins have killed sixteen and wounded many Egyptian pilgrims in Arabia.

Information from other sources shows that Egyptian pilgrims there were made to suffer indescribable hardships and compelled to subscribe to the cost of the Hedjaz Railway under penalty of imprisonment.

It is suggested that Lord Cromer should take steps to protect Egyptians while they are in Turkish territory.

Baltimore & Ohio Railroad

Excursion Tickets To

St. Louis

World's Fair

ON SALE COMMENCING APRIL 25 AS FOLLOWS:

$33.60—Season Tickets Valid for Return Until December 15, 1904.

$28—Sixty-Day Tickets Valid for Return Sixty Days, But Not Later Than December 15, 1904.

$23—Fifteen-Day Tickets Valid for Return Fifteen Days, Including Date of Sale.

First Coach Excursion May 17

ONLY $17 ONLY

ROUND TRIP Tickets good only in day coaches on trains leaving Washington as follows: 10 a. m. and 4:35 p. m.

Tickets good returning ten days, including date of sale. Full particulars at ticket offices.

Goldenberg's

Seventh and K Sts.

White Shirt Waists

Worth two dollars 98c Newest Styles

Thank a backward spring season for this phenomenal offering of brand-new two dollar Waists at 98c. The manufacturer couldn't wait longer for warm weather to create a demand—and sold us his stock at a big sacrifice.

They are the very latest styles created for this spring and summer—and include superior quality white India Linon and Persian Lawn, with lace and embroidery trimmings in many new and effective designs.

Styles include White India Linon Waists, the entire round yoke of dainty Val lace insertion, front finished off with fine tucks and insertion of lace, full sleeves and tucked back.

India Linon Waists, with fine formed of fine insertion and hemstitched tucks, with tabs of same, three rows of insertion down front; tucked back and full puff sleeves.

Fine quality Persian Lawn Waists, trimmed with hemstitched tucks, large pleat down front, new cape-effect collar, handsomely finished off with lace insertion and medallions, puff sleeves, soft hemstitched collar and cuffs.

India Linon Waists, with entire front of buttonhole embroidery, and wide plaits forming blouse, new tucked back and fancy stock.